I have a friend who told me about shutting down the game or putting the mobile device in airplane mode when she thinks she thinks she will come in 3rd or 4th or lose a tournament. Since you get your entry tokens back and double your entry tokens for placing second for regular tournaments (Green through Diamond), I don't do this partially for ethical reasons but also if you do it too late in the game, it is ineffective and you will lose not only the boosts you played but your tokens as well since it takes at least several seconds before the game recognizes that you have lost connection.
